

19

Thy Glory, O God

PSALM 19

THE HEAVENS DECLARE 10.10.10.8.8.10.

1. Thy glo - ry, O God, the heav-ens de-clare, The skies di - vine marks of art-ist-ry bear; And
 2. The heav-ens pro-vide a tent for the sun Be-neath which he has a race to be run, A
 3. The laws of the Lord are per-fect and true, For all that is good they tes-ti-fy to. His
 4. More pre-cious than gold, his laws I o - bey, And sweet - er to me than hon-ey are they; In
 5. O let me not walk pre-sump-tu-ous-ly, Lest sin should be - come the mas-ter of me; But day un - to day, and night un - to night The voice of their wis-dom is heard Through-ju - bi - lant groom in search of his bride; His cir-cuit of them is com - plete. He stat - utes are right, his pre-cepts are pure; They wak-en the soul and make wise The keep - ing of them, how great the re-ward! For who is so wise not to need Their words from my mouth and thoughts in my heart Must be with-out guile and up - right, Ac -

out all the earth, and each word In lan-guage and speech re - flect-eth their light.
 blaz - eth with ve - he - ment heat, And noth - ing on earth is a - ble to hide.
 sim - ple, and o - pen the eyes To fear him whose fear shall al - ways en - dure. A - men.
 warn - ings; O may I take heed! Thy ser - vant, for - give; be mer - ci - ful, Lord.
 cept - a - ble, Lord, in thy sight. My Sav - iour, from thee I will not de - part.